

HAWAII REPUBLICANS' FIGHT TO REGAIN CONVENTION VOTES TOLD

McKinley of Illinois, who held Charles R. Rice's proxy as national committee man from Hawaii, spoke Hawaii's part in this contest.

Dissatisfaction among the Hawaiian delegates was caused by the refusal of Charles R. Rice to grant his proxy as national committeeman to a member of the delegation. Although repeated letters and requests were made that he transfer his proxy to one more closely connected with the islands and the delegation, he continued to leave it in the hands of Congressman McKinley.

Mr. McKinley carried the contest successfully through the national committee. Hawaii, Alaska and the Philippines were granted two votes in the recommendations of this committee. Although the District of Columbia, also contesting for votes, did not meet with favor in this committee, Hawaii avoided the objections made against the District of Columbia on the basis of the difference in representation.

Delegate to Congress J. K. Kalanianaole carried the contest into the credentials committee where favorable recommendations were obtained. In making an amendment to the motion calling for a recommendation to the convention that the islands be given back her votes, Prince Kuhio had Hawaii's islands changed to Territory of Hawaii in order that the true position of the islands would be plain.

The representative from Tennessee was a bit unpleased in objecting to the amendment. Otherwise there was little objection.

On the second day of the convention the report of the credentials committee was accepted, giving Hawaii her votes.

Robert W. Breckin was made national committeeman from Hawaii by the nomination of the delegation and election of the convention on the second day of meeting.

Henry J. Lyman served on the resolutions and permanent organization committees and J. K. Kalanianaole on the rules and credentials committees as representatives of the Territory of Hawaii.

The two votes of the territory were cast as follows—in the nominations for president and vice-president:

First ballot: Kalanianaole voted for Weeks and Lyman for Burton.

Second ballot: Kalanianaole voted for Weeks and Lyman for Burleson.

"NO HIDING PLACES FOR GERMS"

Examine the one-piece porcelain lining of the Glacier under a lens. You will see only a perfectly smooth, glossy surface, even in the corners. You couldn't scratch this porcelain with a knife because it's fused on steel at a heat of 2400 degrees. That's why the provision chamber is always sweet and fresh; no musty odors, no damp, greasy walls.

ATMOSPHERE OF COLLEGES FELT AT CLUB LUNCH

Ad Club Members Hear Good Talks and Listen to College Glee Club Music

Wednesday, June 21.

At the luncheon of the Ad Club at the Alexander Young Hotel today the features presented much of a college flavor as talks were given by J. A. Widstoe, president of the Utah Agricultural College, and by Dr. A. S. Hitchcock of the department of agriculture. Music was furnished by the University of Santa Clara orchestra.

One of the largest crowds in months attended the session today and the members of the Santa Clara University baseball team were given a rousing welcome as they sat down to the tables. Included in the party were the baseball team, the orchestra and several Santa Clara roosters.

In his talk Dr. Hitchcock explained the work of the identification of various grasses and their uses. He explained that he would spend much of his time while here in working out plans for the cultivation of hay in Hawaii, and stated that arrangements might be made for the drying on a large scale as is used in the drying of fruits.

J. A. Widstoe in his talk on Utah brought up the point that had been done in the agricultural line in that state and stated that Utah was pointing toward agriculture as the solid foundation of the prosperity of the country. He asserted that there were large valleys in Utah covering more acres than Hawaii.

J. J. Kelly, the rooster-in-chief of the Santa Clara baseball team, made a witty talk which was much appreciated by the audience. He talked on Utah and California and Hawaii, and when speaking of the Parades of the Pacific used the expression "We." After the talk on Utah Kelly claimed that California had larger valleys than the Rocky Mountain states, and was the recipient of much applause when he stated that Hawaii had prettier girls than could be found in Utah.

One of the best musical programs of the Ad Club season was given by the Santa Clara orchestra, and later "Brie" Kavanaugh gave two songs along the Al Jolson style which went over big.

Rev. W. D. Westervelt wanted to know which team would win in the coming game between the Santa Clara and the 21st Infantry team.

Alton Clark said that Kalanianaole avenue would soon be a good road.

HONOLULU'S BRIGHT SPOT

There will be the usual mid-week dance at Heinle's Tavern tonight and a most enjoyable evening is promised. The Santa Clara orchestra will be in attendance and this in itself is sufficient to bring out a big crowd, for more accomplished musicians have not been heard in Honolulu for many a moon. There isn't a cooler spot in town these warm nights than the Tavern, and there isn't a pleasanter place in Honolulu to spend this evening than within its hospitable portals. Rev. George Whaley wrote after the comfort of his guests in person: "Adv.

W. G. Hall, president of Catton, Neil & Co., is to resign to become assistant manager of the Honolulu Iron Works about the first of next month it was announced yesterday afternoon, following a meeting of the directors of the iron works company.

City offices closed yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock to enable employees and officials to attend the Pauhau pageant. The mayor's secretary, R. C. Woodward, and the county clerk, David Kalanianaole, participated in the affair, as there was an unusual interest in it on the part of city hall.

The manager, C. Heidemann, has found it necessary to devote the greater part of his time to the business of the company in Cuba, Formosa and the Philippines recently, and he asked that Mr. Hall be engaged to attend to the Hawaiian business. There has been no assistant manager of the company since W. J. Dyer resigned about two years ago.

SWISS SOLDIERS TOTE HEAVIEST ARMY PACK

Swiss soldiers are said to carry the heaviest pack of any national army—one weighing 70 pounds. Swiss boys begin preparing for the army at seven years and continue until 18 years of age. At the age of 20 years they enlisted in the army.

There were some of the points brought out by Capt. Henry French of the 22nd Infantry of the Swiss army, speaking recently before the Main Line Chapter of the Pennsylvania Women's Division of National Protection.

Capt. French in explaining the Swiss military system asserted that Switzerland, with a population of about 2,500,000, has an army of 500,000.

BUT I DUNNO.

I sometimes think I'd rather crow And be a rooster, than to roost And be a crow. But I dunno.

A rooster he can roost also, Which don't seem fair when crows can't crow, Which may help some. Still I dunno.

Crows should be glad of one thing, though: Nobody thinks of eating crow, White roosters they are good enough For anyone, unless they're tough.

There's lots of tough old roosters, though: And, anyway, a crow can't crow, So maybe roosters stand more snow, It looks that way. But I dunno.
